WHY CEMENT PLANTERS?

Concrete planters are strong and durable, and unlike wood or plastic that will rot or become brittle over time, concrete will last year after year.

Many concrete planters come in large sizes and are strong enough that large roots won't break the pot.

Concrete can be stained or painted to create a range of decorative effects, or, if left bare, can develop an aged, mossy look for a more natural, classical look.

The thickness of concrete containers combined with their lighter color will help protect the soil from temperature fluctuations.

APPLICATIONS

Concrete planters welcome people to this home and add color and texture to the exterior.

Concrete planters paired with modern planters to create a contemporary look.

Naturally blends with all types of surroundings.

Intended for both indoor and outdoor use
